

Ragdale Hall receives Best Companies accolade for the third year running!

Ragdale Hall have recently been awarded a one star accreditation by Best Companies 2007. They were similarly successful in 2006 and in 2005 were listed in the Sunday Times Top 100 Best Companies to work for.

The well known health spa, which has also won many reader awards in national newspapers and magazines for their pampering a relaxing breaks, is one of only 273 companies in the UK to have been awarded this significant accolade this year.

"It is recognition for great work practices and employee care – the accreditation has been established to acknowledge corporate excellence in the workplace which is seen to be integral to an organisation's success and growth" Best Companies 2007.

Staff at Ragdale Hall were surveyed on over seventy topics relating to their employment and how they felt about the organisation, it's leadership and their work-life balance.

Ragdale's owner Michael Isaac's recognises the part each one of the five hundred staff make to the success of the business and personally acknowledges this at every opportunity. He believes that the ever growing band of long serving members of staff contribute greatly to the ambience of the Hall and it is to see these familiar faces that many guests return time after time.

During 2006 no fewer than twenty-nine staff celebrated long service, twenty one celebrated 5 years, five celebrated 10 years, two 15 years and one 30 years. Pictured on page 1 are some of this dedicated team with Michael Isaacs (fourth from the left).

An amazing 54 more are due to be honoured in 2007.
