Fancy a 'Daycation'?

Ragdale Hall health hydro and thermal spa

If like the rest of the UK, you are finding your pile of spare pennies slowly getting smaller and smaller, why not opt for a cheaper alternative than an expensive holiday abroad? Not only is a daycation way down there on the stress level o-meter compared to a holiday (passports, luggage, airports, travel insurance, new wardrobe, sun cream, someone to look after the pets, cancelling papers and milk etc. etc.) it is also a way of making your very own contribution to the UK travel/tourism market during these tough economic times.

So maybe a trip to a spa for some totally relaxing me-time to share with someone special would do just as well?

Also the beauty of daycations is the fact that you can have more than one or two a year, even every couple of months to help balance out your family time and me-time and build up those fond unforgettable moments throughout the year.

If a visit to Ragdale Hall sounds like your sort of thing, then we would like to invite yourself and a friend to come on an overnight visit to try Ragdale out for yourself, in return for you writing some editorial.

Your accommodation, meals and a luxurious treatment each would be with our compliments - just phone us with suggested dates and we'll make all your arrangements.

Call us now - your readers need to know about the UK's most desirable spa!

Please feel free to view Ragdale Hall's video brochure

Ragdale Hall is one of the UK's best loved spas and so far in 2011 has:

Been voted the Mumsnet Best Spa in the UK Award for the second time

Been voted Runner Up in the Conde Nast Traveller Readers' Spa Awards Favourite UK Spa Retreat 2011

Been reassessed for the prestigious Good Spa Guide and have retained the highest possible rating of Five Bubbles.

Been voted Best for Weightloss in the Natural Health Spa Awards 2011
